Room To Grow

Room to grow, to thrive and glow.
We’ll protect and feed, provide every need.
With love, we’ll dry those tiny tears,
and chase away those little fears.
We’ll cherish this time, our innocent Rose,
and every moment, as Rosie grows.

A magnificent skylight spilling sunlight over the upper hallway was the inspiration for this “Oriental Garden” feeling. The chinoiserie cabinet sets the mood for a relaxed “promenade” through our garden to the adjoining rooms. Every top floor should have one!

Koreana is the bringing together of the Arts of Asia, within a contemporary setting, for the enjoyment of the discriminating person. My individually selected antique pieces provide the basic theme for this man’s personal room, a place where a combination of Oriental esthetics and Western comfort meet to allow today’s man to express his broadening horizons.

I challenge you to place this room geographically. Isn’t this a sort of ultimate metropolitan space?

Given a room to design, the ground rules were simple — take this space and create . . .

If you simply respect the innateness of places and objects one can hardly go wrong.

There is, of course, a strong echo of motion and sensitivity of the artists’ accomplishments here. The ultimate setting for your objects d’art.

Burn oil blue & cut heating bills 40%

"I'm John Cameron Swayze. I cut my fuel oil consumption 41% by replacing my old furnace with Blueray… based on no-nonsense testing in strict accord with the Department of Energy's own rigid guidelines!

Four out of five new Blueray owners report fuel savings of 25% to 50%. That's why Blueray dealers don't exaggerate Blueray is money in your pocket. Just ask…

Blueray's savings potential… they don't have to! Blueray's unique, patented flame concentrator burns oil so efficiently it burns blue, with zero soot emission. No matter how old your conventional, yellow flame furnace is, you could be saving big with Blueray. Call your Blueray dealer now for your free savings estimate."

Blueray seasonal efficiencies:
- Furnace: 82.9%
- Boiler: 84.2%
- Tested according to D.O.E. procedures.

Hasn't every Mother wished for a room of her own, tucked away, where she can enjoy a few minutes of quiet... Where it is always Spring?... A place to listen to music, to write, to do needlework or just catch a minute of sleep. Perhaps only "one in a million" could have such a room, but if children can dream and pretend... so can Mothers!!

"Princess" Julia's Castle at Grandma's House

Designed by: Watts of Millington

Millington, New Jersey 07946
(201) 647-0050

Assistants: Sarah DiGiovanni, Jane Frank,
Linn Watts, and W. O. Watts

Grandma's attic room high up in the treetops is a special fairyland hideaway for "princess" Julia. Romance and nostalgia are everywhere, enhanced by attic treasures of bygone days and possessions of today. A place to live in fantasy, it captures the imagination of Julia and her friends. In the company of animals and dolls, characters of favorite storybooks are portrayed, as costumes are chosen from a real and "dress-up" wardrobe. Within this "castle of a room" complete with swan, unicorn, dragon, books, dolls, and toys is a marvelous castle doll house. How wonderful to be a princess of a little girl on visits to Grandma's house.

Needlepoint Rug

The needlepoint rug being raffled by the Plainfield Renaissance Designers' Showhouse is in itself a renaissance of a gracious craft. Created by Sandra Tasch, professional designer and artist, the 4 feet by 6 feet rug is a garden bouquet of iris, daffodils, tulips, pussywillows, cornflowers, roses, bluebells and greens in true vibrant flower colors. Two different bouquets with a blue bow on one and a blue knot on the other are accentuated by a pale yellow background and repeated within a border of leaf green edged by cornsilk yellow.

Valued at $2000 the rug was made by members of the Muhlenberg Hospital Auxiliary who worked with Mrs. Tasch. The cost was shared by all the Twigs. Stitching was done by:

Mrs. Hyman Abrams — Cedar Twig
Mrs. George Alburg
Miss Margaret Broek — Sycamore Twig
Mrs. William Conover
Miss Anne Louise Davis — Sycamore Twig
Mrs. F. Edgar Davis — Orange Blossom
Mrs. Charles H. Detwiller, Jr. — Orange Blossom
